

On identity.

Who am I?

I am no nobody

And I am not someone

I love the silence and challenge a defiance.

I may not be always correct, but friends I will always protect.

From wounds and hurt, always staying alert.

Though I am kind, I am not blind.

I will forever be there. Detest disloyalty and swear even if you did something bad

I won't be mad

Puns and jokes I enjoy so much, even the darkest ones

Those I love a ton, a skele'ton!

Almost as much as I love cats, who 'paw'ays behave 'purr'fectly like brats.

I am sorry and I should probably stop 'meow'

Do not worry, I am alright... somehow.
